Subject: Application for Full Stack Software Developer Position at Digital Stack

Dear Hiring Team at Digital Stack,

If there's one thing I love more than writing clean, efficient code, it's solving complex problems and building applications that just work—fast, scalable, and seamlessly integrated. When I came across Digital Stack's opportunity, I knew this was a team I'd be excited to join. After all, what's better than crafting intuitive, high-performing software while working with a group that values innovation, collaboration, and cutting-edge tech?

Why I'm a Great Fit for Your Team

✓ Passionate Full-Stack Developer – With 2+ years of experience, I've built robust applications using React, Next.js, and Node.js, integrating RESTful APIs and GraphQL to create dynamic, data-driven experiences.

✓ Scalable & Secure Backend Solutions – I've developed microservices using .NET Core and Express, ensuring optimal security, performance, and maintainability. Plus, I'm no stranger to database optimization—whether it's PostgreSQL, SQL Server, or MongoDB.

✓ Cloud & DevOps Enthusiast – Experienced in AWS deployments, CI/CD pipelines, and containerization with Docker & Kubernetes, ensuring smooth, automated deployments.

✓ Creative Problem-Solver – I thrive in fast-paced environments, quickly grasping complex systems, debugging issues efficiently, and continuously seeking ways to improve developer and user experience.

I'm particularly drawn to Digital Stack's mission of empowering franchise and multi-location businesses with cutting-edge brand management solutions. The idea of building a platform that gives businesses control over their marketing, domestically and internationally, excites me.

I'd love the chance to chat more about how I can bring my problem-solving mindset, full-stack expertise, and enthusiasm for scalable web development to your team. Looking forward to connecting!

Best regards,

Xuan Trinh
